Part I. Performance Information: Table 1

The Commodore Advantage® variable annuity contract is issued by Annuity Investors Life Insurance Company® (AILIC). The Commodore Advantage offers both variable and fixed investment options. The variable investment options are subaccounts of Annuity Investors® Variable Account B (Subaccounts). Each Subaccount is invested in shares of a registered investment company or a portfolio of a registered investment company (Portfolios).

Table 1 contains information about the performance of the Subaccounts. It shows how the Subaccounts have performed over time and allows a participant or beneficiary to compare them with an appropriate benchmark for the same time periods. Benchmarks do not reflect deductions for fees or expenses of the Subaccounts or Portfolios.

Past performance does not guarantee how an investment option will perform in the future. An investment in a Subaccount could lose money.

Part II. Fee and Expense Information: Table 3

Table 3 shows fee and expense information related to The Commodore Advantage. It shows the total annual operating expenses for the Subaccounts listed in Table 1. The total annual operating expenses of a Subaccount are expenses that reduce its rate of return. Total annual operating expenses of each Subaccount include: (1) the total annual operating expenses of the underlying Portfolio; (2) a mortality and expense risk charge of 1.25%; and (3) an administration charge of 0.00%. The fixed investment options do not incur any annual expenses.

Information about shareholder-type fees related to The Commodore Advantage is set out in the chart below Table 3. These fees are in addition to the total annual operating expenses of the Subaccounts. The Subaccounts, the Portfolios, and the fixed investment options do not charge any shareholder-type fees.

A summary of restrictions and limitations that apply to purchase payments, allocations, transfers, withdrawals, and active trading is set out in the chart below Table 3.

The cumulative effect of fees and expenses can substantially reduce the growth of retirement savings. Visit the Department of Labor's Web site for an example showing the long-term effect of fees and expenses at <https://www.dol.gov/sites/default/files/ebsa/about-ebsa/our-activities/resource-center/publications/a-look-at-401k-plan-fees.pdf>.

Fees and expenses are only one of many factors to consider when deciding to invest in an option. Participants and beneficiaries may also want to think about whether an investment in a particular option, along with their other investments, will help them to achieve their financial goals.

Annuities are issued by insurance companies. Guarantees of an insurance company are subject to its long-term financial strength and claims-paying ability.

TABLE 4	Annuity Options
Name	The Commodore Advantage Variable Annuity Contract (The Commodore Advantage) The interests of individual participants under a contract are evidenced by certificates of participation. In this table, “you” and “your” refer to an individual participant or beneficiary.
Issuer	Annuity Investors Life Insurance Company (AILIC)
Objective/Goal	The contract is a group deferred variable annuity. The contract is designed to be a long-term investment, to meet retirement and other long-range goals.
Benefits	Annuity Benefit. The contract will provide a guaranteed stream of annuity benefit payments to you at some future date. These payments will be based on your account value, which will depend on the performance of the investment options that you choose. The annuity benefit amount will be reduced by any fees and charges under the contract, any applicable premium tax or other tax not previously deducted, and by the outstanding balance of any loans. Death Benefit. The contract includes a death benefit payable to your beneficiary if you die during the accumulation period. The death benefit will be based on the greater of (1) your account value on the death benefit valuation date; and (2) the minimum death benefit. The minimum death benefit is equal to the total purchase payments, including the bonuses on the purchase payments, reduced proportionally for withdrawals, including any charges or adjustments applicable to such withdrawals. The death benefit amount will be reduced by any fees and charges under the contract, any applicable premium tax or other tax not previously deducted, and by the outstanding balance of any loans. Settlement Options. AILIC will make periodic payments in any form of settlement option acceptable to it at the time of an election. The standard forms of settlement options are listed below. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Payments for a fixed period you select. • Payments for as long as you live and, if you select a fixed period and you die during the fixed period, payments for the rest of the period. • Payments for as long as you live and, if the secondary annuitant you designate survives you, 50% of the payment amount for as long as the secondary annuitant lives. Periodic payments under a settlement option are affected by various factors, including the length of the payment period, the life expectancy of the annuitant, the frequency of the payment interval, and the payment form selected. Benefit payments may be calculated and paid as a variable dollar benefit, as a fixed dollar benefit, or as a combination of both.
Pricing Factors	The cost of your right to receive annuity benefit payments and the cost of the death benefit are included in mortality and expense risk charge of 1.25% and the administration charge of 0.00%. The mortality and expense risk charge compensates AILIC for the mortality risks it assumes because of its obligation to make annuity benefit payments and death benefit payments, and for expense risks that AILIC assumes because its actual expenses in administering the Advantage contracts and Variable Account B could exceed the amount AILIC receives through other contract fees. The rate shown is an annual rate. The Annuity 2000 Mortality Table for blended lives (60% female / 40% male) with interest at 1% per year, compounded annually, is used to compute all guaranteed settlement option factors, values, and benefits under your certificate.
