Part I. Performance Information: Table 1

The Commodore Independence® variable annuity contract is issued by Annuity Investors Life Insurance Company® (AILIC). The Commodore Independence offers variable investment options. The variable investment options are subaccounts of Annuity Investors® Variable Account B (Subaccounts). Each Subaccount is invested in shares of a registered investment company or a portfolio of a registered investment company (Portfolios).

Table 1 contains information about the performance of the Subaccounts. It shows how the Subaccounts have performed over time and allows a participant or beneficiary to compare them with an appropriate benchmark for the same time periods. Benchmarks do not reflect deductions for fees or expenses of the Subaccounts or Portfolios.

Past performance does not guarantee how an investment option will perform in the future. An investment in a Subaccount could lose money.

The cumulative effect of fees and expenses can substantially reduce the growth of retirement savings. Visit the Department of Labor's Web site for an example showing the long-term effect of fees and expenses at <https://www.dol.gov/sites/default/files/ebsa/about-ebsa/our-activities/resource-center/publications/a-look-at-401k-plan-fees.pdf>. Fees and expenses are only one of many factors to consider when deciding to invest in an option. Participants and beneficiaries may also want to think about whether an investment in a particular option, along with their other investments, will help them to achieve their financial goals.

Part III. Annuity Information: Table 4

Table 4 focuses on The Commodore Independence annuity contract. Annuities are insurance contracts that allow the participant or beneficiary to receive a guaranteed stream of payment at regular intervals, usually beginning when the participant retires and lasting for his/her entire life or a fixed period he/she selects. Annuities are issued by insurance companies. Guarantees of an insurance company are subject to its long-term financial strength and claims-paying ability.

Additional Information Available on the Great American Insurance Annuity Group Website

The Commodore Independence prospectus includes information about: (1) its objectives or goals; (2) fees that will reduce account values; (3) guaranteed income payments, including any limitations on the right of participants or beneficiaries to receive such payments; (4) costs and / or factors taken into account in determining the price of benefits under the guaranteed income payments; and (5) contract limitations on the ability of participants or beneficiaries to withdraw or transfer amounts and fees or charges applicable to such withdrawals or transfer. The Commodore Independence prospectus is available at www.gaig.com/annuities/pages/variable-compliance-docs.aspx.

TABLE 4	Annuity Options
Name	The Commodore Independence Variable Annuity Contract (The Commodore Independence) The interests of individual participants under a contract are evidenced by certificates of participation. In this table, “you” and “your” refer to an individual participant or beneficiary.
Issuer	Annuity Investors Life Insurance Company (AILIC)
Objective/Goal	The contract is a group deferred variable annuity. The contract is designed to be a long-term investment, to meet retirement and other long-range goals.
Benefits	Annuity Benefit. The contract will provide a guaranteed stream of annuity benefit payments to you at some future date. These payments will be based on your account value, which will depend on the performance of the investment options that you choose. The annuity benefit amount will be reduced by any fees and charges under the contract, any applicable premium tax or other tax not previously deducted, and by the outstanding balance of any loans. Death Benefit. The contract includes a death benefit payable to your beneficiary if you die before the annuity commencement date and before you surrender your certificate. The death benefit will be based on the greater of (1) your account value on the death benefit valuation date; and (2) 100% of the purchase payments received by AILIC, less amounts returned to you. The death benefit amount will be reduced by any fees and charges under the contract, any applicable premium tax or other tax not previously deducted, and by the outstanding balance of any loans. Settlement Options. AILIC will make periodic payments in any form of settlement option acceptable to it at the time of an election. The standard forms of settlement options are (1) payments for a fixed period you select; (2) payments for as long as you live and, if you select a fixed period and you die during the fixed period, payments for the rest of the period; (3) payments for as long as you live and, if the secondary annuitant you designate survives you, 50% of the payment amount for as long as the secondary annuitant lives; and (4) payments for as long as you live. Periodic payments under a settlement option are affected by various factors, including length of the payment period, life expectancy of the annuitant, frequency of the payment interval, and the payment form selected. Benefit payments may be calculated and paid as a variable dollar benefit, as a fixed dollar benefit, or as a combination of both.
Pricing Factors	The cost of your right to receive annuity benefit payments and the cost of the death benefit are included in mortality and expense risk charge of 1.25% and the administration charge of 0.15%. The mortality and expense risk charge compensates AILIC for the mortality risks it assumes because of its obligation to make annuity benefit payments and death benefit payments, and for expense risks that AILIC assumes because its actual expenses in administering the Independence contracts and Variable Account B could exceed the amount AILIC receives through other contract fees. The administration charge offsets expenses incurred in administering the contracts and the variable account. The rates shown are annual rates. The 1983 Group Annuity Table with interest at 3% per year, compounded annually, is used to compute all guaranteed settlement option factors, values, and benefits under your certificate.
Fees	An annual certificate maintenance fee of $40 applies. It is deducted from amounts allocated to the variable investment options. A transfer fee applies to each transfer in excess of 12 in any certificate year. The current transfer fee is $25. These charges and fees may be waived under certain circumstances. If loans are available under your certificate and you borrow money under the loan provisions, AILIC will charge interest on the loan. AILIC currently charges 6% interest on loans. AILIC will charge a higher interest rate if the plan administrator directs AILIC to do so.
Limitations	Limitations on Annuity Benefit Payments. If the amount of any regular payment under the form of settlement option elected would be less than $50, an alternative form of settlement option will have to be elected. Unless AILIC agrees otherwise, the annuity commencement date cannot be later than the certificate anniversary following your 85th birthday, or five years after your certificate effective date, whichever is later. A fixed period of less than five years is available only as a death benefit settlement option. Other Contract Limitations. Restrictions and limitations on purchase payments, allocations, transfers, withdrawals and active trading are summarized in the chart below Table 3.
Additional Information	This table contains a summary of certain features of The Commodore Independence. For more information about these features, see the contract prospectus and supplements, which are available at www.gaig.com/annuities/pages/variable-compliance-docs.aspx . Guarantees related to The Commodore Independence are subject to AILIC’s long-term financial strength and claims-paying ability.
